

Abberley & Malvern Hills Geopark

Worcester City Art Gallery & Museum

Housed in a beautiful Victorian building, Worcester City Art Gallery & Museum runs a lively programme of exhibitions, activities and events for all the family.

The collections date back to 1833 and are important holdings exploring the local landscape. Particular highlights on display are fine art and archaeology.

With free admission, visitors can also enjoy lunch in the balcony cafe and a great gallery shop.

Temporary exhibitions

Situated in the heart of England, on the banks of the River Severn and overlooked by the Malvern Hills, Worcester City hosts several museums. The largest is the City Art Gallery & Museum, situated just outside the city centre.

The Art Gallery hosts twelve exhibitions a year with a variety of visual displays including contemporary art, craft and design as well as historical shows drawn from Worcester's and other museums' collections. We aim for an inspiring and balanced programme across the year to suit a variety of interests.

The Museum includes an activities space where families can draw inspiration from geological and biological specimens from the collection.

The collection has significant holdings of local geology and an important herbarium as well as archaeology relating to the local area and both historic and contemporary fine art exploring the urban and rural landscape.
